Processors Directory

2007

Introduction

The Industry Competitiveness Branch of the Ministry of Agriculture and Lands would like to welcome you to the 2007 British Columbia Food Processors Directory. Aside from listing a wide variety of food, beverage, and nutraceutical processors in British Columbia, this directory also includes industry-related associations, boards, and councils.

We thank all the processing companies and other organizations that were contacted over the past year for their participation in updating this directory. There is no charge for being listed in the directory.

While every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information, we cannot guarantee that all the entries are complete. If you want to amend your company's entry or suggest the inclusion of other organizations in the directory, please contact the Industry Competitiveness Branch by using the contact information provided below.

A faxable form with the basic company data needed for an update or inclusion in this directory can be found on the last page.

Although this directory only lists processors and associations, an extensive list of suppliers (of equipment, packaging & labeling, and other services), brokers, consultants, and financial organizations is available on the BC Food Processor Association's website at <http://www.bcfpa.ca/resources.html>. For more information on food processing or other agricultural topics, please visit the Ministry's website or contact the Industry Competitiveness Branch.

We hope you find the information in the 2007 BC Food Processors Directory helpful, and we thank you for your interest in British Columbia's food industry.
